Real Estate Offers Career Opportunities

Real estate can be broken into subsets such as residential, commercial, and relocation specialist based on the area of interest and the types of clients an individual wishes to serve. All jobs require an initial training course that prepares individuals for the Sales Associate Exam that is offered in several formats, such as seven days in class, two nights per week for eight weeks, or online. Passing the Department of Business and Professional Regulation exam allows one to earn the initial Real Estate Sales Associate license. The same process is followed to obtain the Real Estate Broker Sales Associate license. Over 11,000 are employed in real estate occupations in the region according to JobsEQ data.

Real Estate is a long-term career option as the region's population expands 2% yearly. According to new Census data, Jacksonville had the 15th largest population growth in the country in the past decade, including in-migration.
